CZOLGOSZ CONFESSES

WOMAN IN PLOT

DEVERY GETS 'A "BOMB" BY MAIL.

A mysterious package which came by mail to-day addressed to "William S. Devery, Deputy Commissioner of Police," contained either a deadly bomb or was a practical joke.

The matter was kept a deep mystery by the Chief, but the story leaked out this afternoon.

When the big fellow found in his morning mail a package in wrapping paper about 5 inches long by 3 by 2 inches he handed it over to Doorman Edward Carpenter, saying, "Take care of this."

When Carpenter opened the package in the outer room, his hair almost stood on end, for he found in it a dozen cigarette boxes, and from several of the boxes matches protruded.

Carpenter handled these cigarette boxes with exceeding caution. Slowly and carefully opening one of them, he found it full of a grayish powder, with two matches. The others were filled in the same way, except that one was full of matches and had no powder.

The doorman examined all the boxes carefully to discover some mechanical device for touching the whole thing off, but found none.

The powder had a sour taste, Carpenter found by touching his tongue to it.

By the order of Chief Devery the whole package was sent to the Bureau of Combustibles, at Fire Headquarters, for examination and analysis.

Rumor had it that a slip of paper accompanied the "bomb," on which was this message:

"The curses of women and children go with this."

When an Evening World reporter asked Chief Devery about his bomb this afternoon he laughed sheepishly and said:

"I guess it was a joke."

SHE WINS LONG FIGHT FOR CHILD

WALKER WINSTON'S FORMER WIFE GETS CUSTODY.

Dispute That Grew Out of a Dakota Divorce Is Ended by Justice O'Gorman's Decision.

The protracted litigation between Walker Winston and his wife, Lillie, as to the possession of their nine-year-old daughter Lillian, was brought to an end to-day when Justice O'Gorman, in the Supreme Court, handed down a decision awarding the custody of the child to Mrs. Winston. He gives permission to Winston to visit her once a week.

Mrs. Winston went to Dakota some years ago and secured a divorce from her husband. She then married Dr. J. E. Ludden, who had been her family physician. Winston brought a suit against her for absolute divorce, declaring that he had never recognized the Western divorce proceeding.

TABLES TURNED ON THE ACTOR.

HARCOURT ACCUSED MISS SHELLEY OF ANNOYING HIM.

She Retaliates by Charge of Grand Larceny in Keeping Her Pawn Ticket.

George Harcourt, a member of John Drew's Company in the play "Second In Command," at the Empire Theatre, appeared in the Jefferson Market Court to-day as complainant against Miriam Shelby, a handsome brunette, who appeared last season in the play "Sag Harbor." He charged her with annoying him.

Miss Shelby is the wife of Actor Walt Whitman, who also appeared in the play "Sag Harbor," and is a relative of the famous poet.

HOT WORDS IN CHURCH DEBATE.

METHODISTS WAR OVER QUESTION OF PROHIBITION.

Rev. Dr. Hensley Characterizes Dr. Buckley's Views as a "Venomous Attack."

The Methodist Preachers' Meeting resumed its regular bi-weekly meetings for the ensuing church year to-day at No. 159 Fifth avenue. The Rev. Dr. R. S. Pardington presided. The session was marked by an extremely vigorous discussion on the temperance question.

Rev. J. A. Hensley, of Trinity Church, Paterson, in the course of an address on total abstinence, said that the Pilgrim Fathers did one thing that their descendants do not boast of—they started a brewery.

SHOT WIFE DEAD AND MORTALLY WOUNDED HIMSELF.

Carl Uppermann, a Mamaroneck upholsterer, after a day spent in riding around the town shooting in Wild West fashion, shot and instantly killed his wife last night. He then shot himself in the head and is now dying in White Plains Hospital.

Woman and a Man Were Czolgosz's Accomplices.

(From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
BUFFALO, Sept. 9.—Czolgosz has confessed to the Superintendent of Police that a week before the shooting of President McKinley he attended a meeting of Anarchists where the proposed assassination of McKinley was discussed.

"I agreed to do it," said he.

Czolgosz and an accomplice came to Buffalo about a week ago and here met a woman believed to be Emma Goldman.

Czolgosz, who has so far refused to reveal the identities of his accomplices, says he, this woman and a man went to Niagara Falls, but a good opportunity to kill the President did not present itself.

They followed the Presidential party to Buffalo. They walked ahead of Czolgosz in the line that greeted the President in the Temple of Music. His male accomplice was sixth or seventh ahead of Czolgosz and had a white handkerchief tied about his right hand, the same as the assassin.

"We figured," said Czolgosz, "that if he could pass safely by the guards with this handkerchief tied about his hand I could also. The President's guard allowed him to proceed and paid no attention to me when I approached McKinley. Then I shot him twice."

What especially makes the President's physicians and friends sanguine is the slow but steady decrease in the President's temperature, which was nearly one degree in three and a half hours this morning.

Dr. McBurney says the President is in an entirely satisfactory condition. Complications to-day are decidedly less likely to occur than yesterday.

As to his somewhat restless night, a man who has been shot isn't to be expected to sleep quietly.
